

Democrats

Republicans

1960

In the 60s and 70s
there was less of a partisan divide

1980

2000

Overtime that divide
has grown to the point
now where Democrats and Republicans are more divided than at any other point in recent history

Republicans continued to grow more conservative after gerrymandering in 2010,
but the trend didn't accelerate.

2020

← More Liberal

Nominate Score

More Conservative →

